Professor and Author

Dr. Kintner to Address The Members of AAUW

Members of the Allentown branch of the American Association of University Women are promised a stimulating program Tuesday evening when they will hear a talk by Dr. William R. Kintner, professor of international relations and political science at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. The meeting will be held in Hotel Traylor at 8 p.m.

Dr. Kintner is a co-author of the brilliant new book, "A Forward Strategy for America," which concerns itself with the strategy and tactics necessary for the free world to meet the Communist threat. Dr. Kintner has had several books published in addition to articles and reviews in magazines and periodicals.

The speaker spent 21 years in the U.S. Army. At the time of retirement he was chief of long-range plans in the Strategic Analysis Section Coordination Group, Chief of Staff. He also served as a chief planner for CIA, as assistant to the Defense Department, as a member of the planning staff of the National Security Council, a member of an advisory committee to Dwight D. Eisenhower and as consultant to the President's Committee studying military assistance.

Dr. Kintner is deputy director of the University of Pennsylvania Foreign Policy Research Institute. He also is appearing on a series of 26 programs called "This is Strategy," over Philadelphia station WCAU-TV.

During the business meeting, AAUW members will vote on the slate presented by the nominating committee. Mrs. Robert Beitel has been proposed for president and Mrs. Richard Peifly for vice-president. Mrs. John J. Schneller, outgoing president, has been proposed for the next nominating committee chairman.

Husbands and guests are invited.
